In the art of costuming she is consummate, and, perhaps to-day she is one of the best dressed haps to-day she is one of the best dressed women of the stage. Miss Blair's company is in every way adequate to her repertoire of plays. She will commence her engagement here with "The New Magdalen," on Friday afternoon "Camille," and the same evening a double bill—"A French Marriage" and "Galatea." The last-named play is a comedy written by Gilbert, and gives Miss Blair an opportunity to display her versatility.
